JACKSONVILLE, ILLINOIS, WEDNESDAY MORNING, JANUARY 18, 1905.

MITCHELL AND HIS ACCUSERS

SENATOR BRANDS THEM AS LIARS

Impressive Scene in the Senate—House Wrestles with the Impeachment Business of Judge Swayne—News Items.

Washington, Jan. 17.—At this instance of of Cullom the senate to day adopted a resolution setting Feb. 17 as the time for receiving the statue of Frances B. Willard, the temperance advocate, by the state of Illinois to statutory hall in the capitol. The statue will be the first figure of a woman to be placed in statutory hall.

While routine business of the morning hour was in progress Mitchell (Ore), entered the chamber. The announcement that Mitchell would address the senate in explanation of charges against him had the effect of filling the galleries. The senators faced about when Mitchell rose from his seat to speak and few of them changed position until he closed. The scene was impressive.

At the outset the senator declared the charges made against him if true unfitted him to occupy a seat in the senate. He then detailed the charges and said:

"I assert in the most positive and unqualified manner that each and every one of the charges, in so far as they relate or involve me, are absolutely, unqualifiedly and atrociously false and I here and now indignantly and defiantly denounce their authors and each and every one of them, and brand them publicly as malicious and atrocious liars."

Mitchell's statement consumed three-quarters of an hour. Toward the close his voice was broken by sobs and he was compelled to dry his eyes with a handkerchief. Many other senators were visibly affected.

When the senator concluded there was a series of handshaking and assurances of confidence on the part of senators. When the reception terminated Mitchell resumed his seat, but soon left the chamber.

Heyburn concluded his speech on the statehood bill and Stone gave notice of a speech to morrow on his resolution for an investigation on charges of corruption in the campaigns of 1896 and 1894.

HOUSE.

Washington, Jan. 17.—With an agreement reached to vote on the Swayne impeachment articles to morrow, at 3:30 debate to day was carried on at a high pressure for more than five hours. Grosvenor furnished the text for a very vigorous speech by Bourke Cockran by reading a letter from Judge Pardee, of New Orleans, declaring politics was at the bottom of the impeachment proceedings. The fact of a judge transmitting such a letter, Cockran declared dramatically, was a "monstrous spectacle."

Grosvenor asserted there was no ground presented for impeachment in the report of the committee.

Other defenders of the Florida judge during the day were Lacey (Iowa), Nevins (Ohio), Moon (Pa.), Crumacker (Ind.), Lamar (Illa.), closed the debate for the day by reviewing the sentiment of his state and the record of Judge Swayne. He declared there was ample ground for impeachment.

NOMINATIONS.

The president to day sent to the senate the following nominations: Commissioner of Immigration, Robert Watchorn, port of New York.

Wm. G. Wheeler, attorney for the western district of Wisconsin.

Register of land office, Albert Wheelton, Pierre, S. D.

Receivers of public moneys, Henry B. Cutting, Pierre, S. D.; John E. Adams, Aberdeen, S. D.

CAPITAL NOTES.

The house committee on merchant marine and fisheries to day authorized a favorable report on the shipping bill reported to congress by the merchant marine committee.

Although the day's meeting of the cabinet lasted nearly two hours little was disclosed concerning the deliberations at the session. Much of the time was taken up in the consideration of appointments, but no announcements about them were made.

The house committee on postoffices and postroads to day reported the postoffice appropriation bill. It carries $180,731,993, the principal details of which have been published heretofore.

Though still suffering from the effects of a severe cold, Secretary of War, who has been confined to the house for several days, was able to attend the cabinet meeting to day and he also transacted considerable business at the state department.

The secretaries of war, state and navy have declined to permit buildings of their departments to be used as temporary quarters for troops which will attend the inauguration, on the ground that such occupancy is prohibited by a recent act of congress. The inaugural committee probably will appeal to congress for a temporary suspension of the prohibitory act. If this plan does not succeed the army will be asked to furnish tents, etc.,

POLITICAL CONTRIBUTIONS

MR COCKRAN BEFORE THE HOUSE COMMITTEE

Believes the Government Should Stand the Expense of Campaigns and Suggests Methods for that Plan

Washington, Jan. 17.—Burke Cockran spoke at considerable length on the subject of publicity in the matter of political contributions before the house committee. He did not object to contributions. He thought a man had as much right to put his money as his views and said that all could not speak or write. "Let him write his name to a check," said Cockran, "if that is the only way in which he can show his enthusiasm." He objected to contributions being secretly made. Cockran advanced argument that a great share of the expense of campaigns should be thrown on the government. He said public buildings could be assigned as headquarters for the two leading parties and government clerks might be assigned them. He said he could see no reason why the government printing office should not be made available to the parties under reasonable restrictions, for printing of documents and said that by extending the franking privilege the cost of circulating documents would be largely met. He thought the railroad might carry the speakers. By this plan a great burden of the expense would be lifted from the political parties as these were the big items. Replying to Chairman Gales, Cockran said it would be necessary to limit privileges suggested to two parties, otherwise the plan would fail. Speaking of the franking privilege, Cockran said he had circulated 110,000 copies of a speech of his own. The party rejected it, he said, because it was too Democratic for Democratic digestion.

Asked if he thought it right for corporations to contribute, he said they could not do so; that it could be done only by an officer of the corporation paying the money, and he characterized such action on the part of the corporation officer as larceny.

POLICY OUTLINED.
Copenhagen, Jan. 17.—Premier Christensen, outlined the policy of new cabinet at to day's session of the Folketing. The three most important points of his ministerial program, according to the premier, is the bill giving universal suffrage at communal elections, settlement of the question of national defense on the basis of neutrality to Denmark, and rearrangement of the parliamentary electoral districts. The premier expressed the opinion the latter could only be affected by the change in the constitution.

BILLS PASSED.
The Senate to day passed the following bills: Transferring control of forest reserves from the interior to agricultural department. Authorizing construction of a bridge across the Red river in Marshall county, Minnesota. Abolishing the office assistant attorney general or the postoffice department and providing a solicitor for that department.

MANY PERISH

An Avalan he of Rock in Norway Brings Death to Fifty-Nine.
Christiana, Norway, Jan. 17.—Fifty-nine persons perished as a result of an avalanche of rocks at Naesdel, north of Bergen Sunday. A mass of rock suddenly precipitated into Loensvand lake from neighboring hills, causing an immense wave twenty feet high, which swept the neighboring shores. Houses, people and cattle were swept away by the rush of water and it is known that fifty-nine persons perished. Thus far only four bodies have been recovered. A great storm to day stopped relief work, as the surrounding district is unable to send help.

DENNISON CASE.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Application of Thomas Dennison of Omaha for writ of error in extradition proceedings against him was docketed to day in the supreme court of the United States. The proceedings were instituted at the instance of authorities of Iowa, on the charge of having received stolen goods in Harrison county, that state in 1892. Dennison is a man of some prominence in Omaha and the case has attracted considerable attention.

GOT NO BOOTY.

Chicago, Jan. 17.—A daring attempt to rob the mails was made to night in front of the Masonic temple in the heart of the business section of the city. The methods employed by the robbers were an exact duplicate of those used two years ago, when a mail wagon standing in the same place as the wagon stood to night, was robbed of $10,000. To night, however, the robber was forced to make his escape without obtaining any of the mail. The collector left the wagon to night and went inside the building to collect mail. He was not gone more than a minute, but in that time the robber mounted the wagon and drove off. John Longman, superintendent of mails, gave chase in an express wagon and driving furiously for several blocks gained so rapidly on the robber that he was forced to jump from the mail wagon and escaped. There was $15,000 in the mail sacks to night, but none had been taken.

CHINA'S NEUTRALITY

Secretary Hay Addresses a Note to the Russian Ambassador on the Subject.

Awful Result of the Bombardment by the Japanese—Feeling of the Russian Officers and Men—War Reports

Washington, Jan. 17.—Secretary Hay has addressed a note to the Russian ambassador here acknowledging the receipt of the Russian complaint of violation of neutrality by China. The secretary availed himself of the opportunity to call attention of the Russian government to certain cardinal principles of international law relative to neutrality which seemed to apply to the present case. It is believed he particularly directed the attention to the formidable difficulties sure to be encountered by a neutral power near the theatre of war in its effort to carry out in letter and spirit the obligations of neutrality in the presence of two such enormously powerful belligerents as are now engaged in hostilities. Through interviews with the Chinese minister here the secretary was acquainted with the Chinese position in this matter and of the purpose to enter into a general denial of the Russian charges, which is probably also known now to Count Cassini.

AUSTRIAN CHANGES.
Vienna, Jan. 17.—It is stated in trustworthy parliamentary circles that frequent conferences between the Austrian premier and members of the various parties have resulted in a decision of the government to form a parliamentary cabinet instead of bureaucratic minister, such as existed the past ten years. Consequently a reconstruction of the cabinet is reported imminent. It is stated a Polish deputy will succeed von Hartel as minister of instruction and a German deputy will succeed Koessler as minister of finance.

OBJECT TO NAME
Germany Cannot Recognize American Boards of Trade by that Designation

Berlin, Jan. 17.—Foreign Secretary von Richtofen has again conveyed to the American chamber of commerce an intimation of the government's unwillingness to recognize foreign institution in Berlin under that name. The Richtofen says government has no objection whatever to an association of American merchants devoted precisely to objects for which presut American Chamber of Commerce is organized but the chambers of commerce in Germany are government institutions, chartered by the state, and have certain defined government privileges which cannot be conferred upon foreign institution within German jurisdiction. The German government is not opposed to activity of American merchants in Germany nor to their organization, but only to the title of chamber of commerce or board of trade. The position of the government is not a discrimination against American traders or American commerce. Richtofen has said if the members will give up the present name and take one such as "Association of American Merchants" or "Board of American Merchants" or any similar designation which they may choose, there can be no objection to their purposes or their activity. It is probable action will be taken in accord with the government's suggestion.

About twenty miners were imprisoned by smoke in distant entries, but all were rescued except those named. It is supposed of overheated timbers in the stables ignited by a mine's lamp.

Springfield, Jan. 17.—Senator Joseph E. Haas, of Cook county, to day introduced a bill for the abolition of the grand jury system in the state.

STEEL CORPORATION CASE.
Trenton, N. J., Jan. 17.—Chancellor Stevenson to day filed an opinion sustaining the demurrer of the United States steel corporation in the suit brought against that company by Alfred F. Stevens to compel the payment of dividends on the company's common stock. The decision practically disposes of the whole case.

LOUBET'S MOTHER BURIED.
Marsanne, France, Jan. 17.—The funeral of President Loubet's mother, who died Sunday last, took place to day. The body was borne from the Loubet farm house to the village church, followed by a large crowd, composed principally of country folks. President Loubet and others of the family were present.

PORT ARTHUR'S DESOLATION

EFFECT OF ASSAULTS DESCRIBED

Awful Result of the Bombardment by the Japanese—Feeling of the Russian Officers and Men—War Reports

St. Petersburg, Jan. 17.—General Kuropatkin yesterday telegraphing Emperor Nicholas reported a Japanese detachment of infantry and cavalry attempted to cut off a column of Mischenko's cavalry Jan. 14. As the latter was about to retire northward Japanese under cover of a mist outflanked the Russians. A battle ensued, Russian inflicting heavy losses on the Japanese at short range and then retreating. The Russian losses were five officers and forty men killed or wounded. Kuropatkin also reported the return of a Russian patrol after blowing up the railroad and destroying a mile of telegraph two miles north of Tatchekiao.

WAR REPORTS.
Washington, Jan. 17.—The state department received the following from Consul Harris at Nagasaki: "General Stoessel, staff and about 500 officers, with officers' families have embarked on the steamer Australasia for Odessa."

St. Petersburg, Jan. 17.—The admiralty here denies the report published by the Matin of Paris to day to the effect that the Russian authorities are in receipt of a dispatch from Rostovsky saying he is leaving Madagascar without awaiting the division commanded by Botrovsky. There is every indication the Russian second Pacific squadron intends to cruise in the Indian ocean for some time, probably until the arrival of the division now being made ready at Lhasa.

HEADQUARTERS JAPANESE ARMY AT PORT ARTHUR.
Jan. 9, via, Plesin, Jan. 17.—When Kwantung peninsula was besieged by the second Japanese army the entire Russian force in the military district of Talien, which included Port Arthur and Dalian, was 35,000. The Russian force at the battle of Nanshan hill was 4,000 and 2,000 of these were lost. They have actually surrendered at Port Arthur between nine and ten thousand soldiers and sailors, of whom many were unfit for duty. The sick and wounded number 16,000. Fifty per cent of the officers of the garrison were killed and only 28 per cent went through the siege unscathed. The fortress could have held out for some time longer but for the fire of the Japanese eleven inch howitzers, which destroyed food depots, workshops and ammunition stores and made repair of defensive works impossible. Close examination of the main line of defense of the west half of the eastern fortified ridges from east of Kekwan mountain to the destroyers Sunshu mountain fort where the Japanese assaults and bombardments were concerted during the last days of the siege, demonstrated the tremendous effectiveness of the eleven inch howitzers. Chinese walls on the slopes, battery position upon the crest of the ridge, and captured guarding forts in the rear were literally torn to pieces. Traverses and bomb proofs of the battery positions on Kosshiyama, in the rear of the east Rhiding mountain fort, fort "H" and the new Banjusan and Wantal hill positions in the rear of Benlung mountain forts presented an awful scene. Not a single gun escaped damage by the Japanese bombardments. In the crest of the ridge great holes were torn and gun emplacements were converted into heaps of debris. Dozens of guns were smashed and hurled from their carriages down the obverse side of the hill by the shell fire. Between Wantal hill and "H" fort a battery of ten inch howitzers had been employed and every one of these guns were damaged, while some were totally destroyed.

The effect of the last bombardment of the siege must have utterly demoralized the garrison, for the damage done proves to have been much greater than any one on the Japanese side imagined at the time. The garrison made its last attempt at resistance Christmas day against Japanese infantry which by a spirited rush captured Wantal hill. At 2 o'clock the following morning the Russians exploded a mine under the battery positions on the crest of the big east Kekwan fort. These positions, which were well constructed of concrete, are now an awful wreck, strewn with broken guns and debris of all kinds. Not a vestige of the former works is left of the entire crest of the hill, which once one of the most powerful battery positions, is now a complete wreck.

INTERVIEWS STOESEL.
London, Jan. 17.—The Express correspondent at Nagasaki has had an interview with General Stoessel, in the course of which the general said:

"The loss of 203 Metro hill and subsequent capture of the forts, combined with the deadly marksmanship with the terrible eleven inch shells, the depressing effect of the death of General Kondratenko and fearful increase of scurvy really fixed the time of capitulation. It is quite untrue that I dissented from unanimous decision of the final council of war. Our final urgent requests for relief were never answered."

SUIT FOR SLANDER

Rev Mr Irvine Takes in Civil Court Against Bishop Tuttle for Damages

Philadelphia, Jan. 17.—The controversy between Bishop Tuttle and Rev. Irvine took a new turn to day and it is probable that the whole affair will be aired in the civil courts. Irvine to day filed notice of a suit for slander against Bishop Tuttle, asking damages. Papers were served on the bishop, who came to this city to day to preside at the meeting of the general committee on Sunday school instruction of the Episcopal church. Irvine's action was the result of a suggestion made by Rev. Dr. Fulton, editor of the Church Standard, in a letter to Rev. Daniel I. Odell, of this city, during the early stages of the controversy, in which the suggestion was made that if Tuttle had made statements concerning Irvine which were not true he had redress in the courts. To day Irvine's attorneys filed notice of the suit and the papers were served upon the bishop by a process server. The amount of damages asked by Irvine is not known. It is believed the deposed priest brought the legal action against the prelate because of failure of the ecclesiastical board of inquiry recently appointed by Bishop Tuttle to investigate his charges against the bishop.

Helleville, Ill., Jan. 17.—F. J. Grossheim, a grocer, was instantly killed this afternoon as a result of explosion of sewer gas in the city sewer, which tore up the street paving and sidewalks and smashed windows in the territory covering several blocks. The damage inflicted was heavy.

EARTHQUAKE.
London, Jan. 17.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg to a news agency reports an earthquake at Shemakha (seventy-six miles northwest of Baku), buried hundreds of people in ruins of buildings in the lower part of the town, which was densely populated despite a decision after the earthquake three years ago that no more houses should be built there.

GUEST OF HONOR.
Washington, Jan. 17.—Speaker Cannon was the guest of honor and principal speaker at a banquet of the National Board of Trade to night. The speaker voiced his sentiments regarding the question of tariff legislation, river and harbor improvements and the amendment of the interstate commerce law. Regarding tariff revision he declared that the consensus of opinion it was better to wait a year before undertaking to revise the revenue laws. Cannon was inclined to think it possible to give the country something in the way of legal machinery that would correct the inequities of the interstate commerce law that now exist. On the subject of rivers and harbors Cannon said a wise proposition would be made by congress for the improvement of the waterways and the great inland seas as far as practicable.

The first repeals the law authorizing the secretary of state to appoint fifty-one employees of the house, and the other authorizes the appointment of the same number of policemen and janitors provided for in the Allen resolution, which failed of passage the second day of the session.

"I don't believe we need that many," said Mr. Austin, "but we certainly do not need twice as many; twenty-five is better than fifty."

The other bills covered practically every possible subject of legislative activity from gas regulations to legislators' passes and village cemetery aid.

NAMES TWO COMMITTEES.

Speaker Shurtliff named two committees to day, those on contingent expenses and service. Mr. Julius Rodman, of Platt county, heads the first, and Dr. Aaron Norden, of Chicago, a true friend of civil service, as chairman of the second. The committees are as follows:

In the Great Struggle for Wealth and Position We Are Becoming Weaker Than Our Forefathers.

By the cares of business and social life we use up or waste away the most vital elements of the human body before we realize our weak and run down condition. It seizes on us so quietly at first that little or no attention is paid to the symptoms, which commence with a queer, bewildering sensation in the head, later the power to concentrate the thoughts, so necessary to brain workers, is lost. Following this will come, deficient sight, or blurred vision, muscular weakness, and a dull pain in the small of the back. There is a tendency to tire easily, the digestion becomes impaired; the temper irritable; spirits depressed, ending in complete lack of confidence and a general feeling of disgust at our own weakness. When the blood and nerve forces have been wasted by disease, overwork, worry, brain-tire, high living, dissipation or other bad habits, Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food rebuilds the system by replacing the same substances that have been lost. Price 50 cents.

J. NEUMANN, Mgr. Sale

Thousands of the best people of Morgan county and neighboring counties were here last Saturday and Monday—some of them traveled 40 miles—eagerly awaiting the opening of the doors, when the Big Sale of the Biggest Store in central Illinois started.

They waited not in vain, as the bargains they bought were the greatest ever sold in Jacksonville. They easily saved $2.00 on a $5.00 purchase, as some of the stock was sold at about 27c on the dollar.

Dry Goods, Carpets, Clothing, Shoes, Hats, Groceries and Queensware must be disposed of in a hurry as the W. L. Alexander Mercantile Co. will quit these lines entirely and henceforth devote their entire energies to furnish the homes. This sale appeals to every inhabitant of Jacksonville and especially so to the ladies. They know a bargain when offered them.

The stock is yet complete in every department, including Furniture, Wall Paper, Hardware and Paints. Everything in our mammoth store is included in this sale.

We Need the Money. A chance of a lifetime. Come To Day; Come To Morrow; Come Every Day This Week. Everything sold under a double guarantee, either to exchange or refund the money if you would rather have it than the goods. Special sale on Men's Clothing Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 18 and 19. We double discount any clothing sale in town. Come and see the busiest store in Jacksonville.

Sale conducted by Jacob Neumann, Proprietor of the Chicago Mdse. Co., of Chicago, Ill., Burlington, Iowa, and Streator, Ill., now selling out

SURPRISE PARTY.

The ladies of the Women's Relief Corps and other friends, to the number of twenty-four, surprised Mrs. Julia Gibbons at her residence on East College avenue Tuesday, Jan. 17, it being the eightieth anniversary of her birth. The ladies all brought well filled baskets and at 12 o'clock an elegant dinner was served, which was enjoyed by all present. Mrs. Gibbons received several useful and beautiful presents, among them a lovely rocker. After spending a few hours socially all left, wishing her many returns of the day.

A Guest.

EARLY PRAYER MEETINGS.

The prayer meetings at Centenary, Grace and Westminster churches will be held at 7 o'clock this evening instead of at 7:30, in order to let out in time for those who wish to hear Dr. Hillis at the opera house to night. Doubtless similar arrangements will be made at the other churches.

Ninety-eight per cent of the people in Jacksonville need a hair tonic. Don't take my word for it, but make a test for yourself—a test that you can see and understand. Pull a hair from your head, if the bulb is white and shrunken the hair is diseased; if the bulb is pink and full, it is healthy. Even if you have the most luxuriant head of hair you must want to know whether it is in an unhealthy condition or not. Don't wait until it begins to fall out or turn gray before you heed the warning that a white bulb gives—if the bulb is white the hair needs nourishment at once. Rexall's 498 Hair Tonic was designed to destroy the germs that cause the shrunken bulb; it not only does this but it tones up the sebaceous glands and gives the hair a gloss that has never been equalled. It controls dandruff and keeps the hair bright and clean.

In buying Rexall's 498 Hair Tonic you take no chances. If, after a trial, you are not more than satisfied, I will cheerfully refund you the fifty cents you pay for a bottle.

BREEDERS' MEETING.

The American Breeders' association and the Illinois Livestock Breeders' association will hold their annual meeting at the college of agriculture, Urbana, Ill., Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Jan. 31, Feb. 1, 2, 3, 1905.

Topics of vital importance to Illinois farmers will be discussed by some of the most eminent men in the country, followed by discussions from practical breeders of plants and animals. Prof. W. M. Hays, recently appointed assistant secretary of the United States department of agriculture, is secretary of the American Breeders' association and is blocking out a strong program which will occupy the last three days of the meeting; the first day's sessions will be devoted to the Illinois Livestock Breeders' association.

It will require some planning, some effort, some sacrifice and a little expense to attend this meeting, but the earnest seeker after knowledge may be benefitted hundreds of dollars in the annual profit to his business, as such direction and inspiration has profited many a man.

Every session will be open and free. There will be something of marked and practical value for every kind of farmer. Here is a chance. Will you improve it?

RAILWAY RATES.

The Central Passenger association—with which the Wabash and Big Four railroads, which touch Urbana, are associated—has authorized the rate of one fare plus 25 cents for the round trip from all Illinois points on account of the corn growers' and stockmen's convention and the aforesaid association meeting at Urbana, Ill. Round trip tickets will be sold Jan. 21, 22, 23 and 30 or 31, 1905; return limit, Feb. 4, 1905. These rates only apply to holders of certificates, which must be obtained in advance by addressing Eugene Davenport, dean and director, college of agriculture, Urbana, Ill.

Send at once for a special rate certificate which will be good for all the immediate members of one family.

The C., P. & St. L. house carpenter gang, under Foreman Ray Dennis, were in the city Tuesday unloading shingles to be put on the roof of the local freight house. The section men were cleaning the passing track of snow and ice so as to have it prepared to run several cars of building material upon it. The old Mitchell hotel building belongs to the C., P. & St. L. company and they expected to commence repairing it to day. New floors will be put in throughout the building and the house will be generally overhauled. After this work is finished the bridge gang under Foreman Felix McAvoy, will be sent here to aid the carpenter force in shingling the depot. The railroad company has intended to repair the old freight house for some time and it is supposed that the thaw has hastened the work.

VISIT OF HON. W. J. BRYAN

HAS AROUSED THE MANY FRIENDS OF ILLINOIS COLLEGE

Made Chairman of Board of Trustees— Given Ovation by Students—Delivered Public Address—College Will Sever Affiliation With Chicago University.

The visit of Hon. W. J. Bryan to Jacksonville Tuesday promises to be a significant one. His coming here was for the purpose of conference with the members of the board of trustees of Illinois college and as a result of that conference he was made a member of the board and elected its chairman.

Mr. Julius E. Strawn will continue in the capacity of acting president of the college until a new head for the institution has been selected.

A committee on president, with the chairman of the board of trustees and the acting president, members of the committee, was named as follows: Chairman, Hon. William Brown; Judge Owen P. Thompson, Judge Edward P. Kirby, Hon. Richard Yates and H. M. Capps.

Two sessions of the board of trustees were held—a morning session in the office of the president in the Jones Memorial building, and an afternoon session at Judge Thompson's office in the court house.

Mr. Bryan delivered two addresses while here, one to the student body who were assembled in the chapel at 11:30, and another to the general public at the same place between the hours of 7 and 8 o'clock in the evening. Both addresses were on college topics.

A motion was passed at the morning session giving notice to the Chicago university that at the end of six months, the time required by the agreement, the affiliation arrangement with that institution would be severed.

Mr. Bryan left Jacksonville on the 8:54 Wabash train for the east, but upon his return in a week or ten days to his home in Lincoln, he will stop formative period of a young man's career.

The interest of Mr. Bryan in his alma mater is most fortunate and the tribute paid him at the seventy-fifth anniversary celebration by President Cyrus Northrup of the University of Minnesota, who delivered the anniversary address, is significant at this time. After speaking at length of the long list of honored alumni of the institution, President Northrup said:

"Undoubtedly the most conspicuous graduate of Illinois college is William Jennings Bryan of the class of 1881. He has twice received the votes of more than six millions of his fellow citizens for the highest office in the gift of the country. A tribune of the people, earnest, sincere, courageous and eloquent, he has in the past swayed audiences, conventions, parties in a wonderful manner; and I hope that in the years to come his sincerity and persuasive eloquence and genuine patriotism may prove both potential and beneficent in defending the people's rights so constantly menaced, and that in noble service he may win new laurels with which to crown his alma mater."

The morning session of the trustees was concluded at 11:30 and Mr. Bryan and the members of the board went at once to the chapel, where the student body was assembled in an expectant mood, waiting to be addressed by Mr. Bryan.

ADDRESS TO STUDENTS
Mr. Julius E. Strawn, acting president of the college, presided, and in a few well chosen words introduced the distinguished alumnus.

The appearance of Mr. Bryan at the entrance to the chapel had been here for a day, when another meeting of the board of trustees will be held.

Mr. Bryan while here expressed a warm interest in the welfare of Illinois college, but when the question of becoming president of the school was broached to him he stated that such a consideration could not be entertained, as his time was already very fully occupied and he felt that the president of any college, particularly of a small college, ought to be where he can be personally in touch with the institution and know intimately the student body. He always had been interested in the prosperity of the college and would be glad of any opportunity that would permit him to more fully render useful service. In accepting the office of chairman of the board of trustees, he wanted it understood that he could only be of efficient service by having the hearty co-operation of all the members of the board who were more familiar with present needs than he was himself. He had no particular view to foist upon the board, but wanted to simply be of that company who would put forward a united and well-directed effort to enlarge the scope of the college and materially increase the student attendance. He expressed himself as a firm believer in the small college and felt that the value of personal contact between student and teacher, possible only in the small school, was a large factor in shaping character at the most the signal for loud applause, but it was as nothing compared to the enthusiasm which greeted him when he arose to speak. Cheer after cheer echoed and re-echoed throughout the chapel and it was a genuine ovation such as only college students can give. Mr. Bryan was very happy in his remarks to the students and began by saying that he had spent six years of his life on the Hill, going there when a mere boy of 15 years and leaving at the age of 21.

In part, he said:
"I look back to those six years with hallowed influence, and see what determining years they were in my life. While I was in college I was a Sigma Phi, and I thought that was a pretty good thing then, and I think so now, but as chairman of the board of trustees of the college I am determined to be a Sigma Phi, as I feel that during the years that have elapsed since I left college, that the Phi has had time to reach that level of equality which is enjoyed by the Sigma."

"I am particularly interested in the small college where the student comes in personal contact with the teacher and enjoys the influence of strong personality. In the small college is not to be found the aristocracy that exists in a large school. The cost of living is the dividing line in a large school. Necessarily, where one or two thousand people are gathered together, there must be a difference in their environment and circumstances of

GAVE FINE CONCERT

Jeffries Band Delighted Large Audience at the Grand Opera House Tuesday Evening—An Excellent Program.

The first recital given by Jeffries' Concert band in the opera house delighted a large and appreciative audience Tuesday evening. The program had been selected with great care and was executed with musical skill and excellence.

Under the efficient direction of Charles Curtin Jeffries, the members of the organization responded perfectly to the wave of the baton and the enthusiasm of the audience demanded encore after encore.

Jacksonville has always had pride in the musical organization which Mr. Jeffries has so long conducted and whose persistent efforts have won for the band an enviable reputation far and wide.

Last year a series of concerts was given in Conservatory hall and while the attendance was large and the work of the band highly satisfactory, the size of the hall militated greatly against the efforts of the musicians. The plan that has resulted in offering a series of concerts in the opera house met with almost instant favor and the readiness with which the public responded to the invitation and promptly secured season tickets is another tribute to the esteem and favor in which the band is held and is an unmistakable evidence of the popularity of the organization.

The program last evening was interpreted in an artistic manner. The ensemble numbers and solo numbers were received with the rich favor they deserved and elicited hearty applause.

Miss Mary H. Clary, reader, assisted the band and her selections were given with fine effect and showed her to be possessed of marked ability and a fascinating style and force of expression. After her second number she graciously responded to the insistent demands for an encore.

The saxophone solo by Mr. Myers and the piccolo solo by Mr. Hayden showed both gentlemen to be musicians of rare attainments and the liberal applause of the audience called for encores, which were given.

The descriptive Fantasia and the selection, "Babes in Toyland," were perhaps the most popular selections played during the evening, though the entire program was an exhibition of splendid musicianship.

By way of introduction the band played "The Star Spangled Banner."

The program:
March—"Japan's Triumphal"—Vanderstout
Overture—"Stradella"—Plotow
"The Winning of Katherine"—
Justin H. McCarthy
From "If I were a King"—
Miss Clary.

Romance—"Image of the Rose"—
Mr. Myers.

Descriptive Fantasia—"Cavalry Charge"—
Luders.

Synopsis: Morning of the battle; Infantry is heard approaching with files and drums; cavalry in the distance, coming nearer and nearer, until they charge upon the enemy; cavalry, infantry and artillery in the melee of battle; defeat of the enemy, pursued in the distance by the cavalry.

Selection—"Babes in Toyland"—
Victor Herbert.

Introducing: March of Toys; Toyland; Floretta; The Moon will Help You Out; Jane; I Can't Do the Sum; Eccentric Dance; Never Mind Bo-Peep; Children's Theme, and Before and After.

Polka for Piccolo—"Mille"—Norrito
Mr. Hayden.

"Our Wedding Day"—Belle C. Greene
Miss Clary.

Caprice—"Idle Hours"—Kretschmer
Popular Minstrel Medley—Boettger

Introducing: Polly Prim; You're as Welcome as the Flowers in May; Egypt; There's a Light Street in Heaven Called Broadway; Starry Night for a Rumble; Every Day is Sunshine, When the Heart Beats True, and Big Indian Chief.

life, and it follows that the line is drawn between those who live according to a certain standard of living and those who have to live in much simpler fashion, and thus you find a student body of a large school divided along lines that are not natural, but are merely arbitrary. In a small school no such lines are found, but there is the feeling of fraternity and friendship and an interchange of ideas that makes the atmosphere wholesome and surrounds the student with helpful influence. I want this college in particular to be distinguished for the training it gives its students. I want it to be distinguished for the making of men and women; I want it to graduate students who realize the full responsibilities of life and who are prepared in a large measure when they leave these walls to meet those responsibilities, and I want to emphasize at this time that it is of equal importance to have the heart as well trained as the mind. The mind is only a part of our equipment, and unless it has a high ideal to guide it, a well trained mind may fall far short of accomplishing what it ought to accomplish, both for its possessor and for the world at large. Poor, indeed, is the character that would limit everything to that which benefits the individual. The man whose heart as well as his mind has been trained, is the man who will accomplish things.

"If I was asked to give a motto for this institution, I don't know of any better motto than the definition of civilization, and out of all the many definitions that have been given for civilization, I know of none better than this, that it is the harmonious development of the human race physically, mentally and morally."

"I want to be instrumental in doing something in my humble way for this dear college on the Hill, which I love. I want to do more in the future than I have done in the past, although I have always been deeply interested in my alma mater."

"As a Presbyterian, I have some times been troubled over the doctrine of election, but the best explanation that has ever been given of that doctrine, I think, is illustrated by the story of two old colored preachers, who were discussing the subject, and one of them explained it thus: 'This here question of election is just this way. The Lord is always voting for you, and the devil is always voting against you, and it all depends on how you vote yourself.'

"Now, young men, you are here surrounded by the best possible influences, with the best wishes of your parents, with the best wishes of your teachers, and with the best wishes of the board of trustees, and of all who have your welfare at heart. It remains with you whether you will make the proper choice and put away those things that will be pleasing but for the moment, for things that will abide and will be permanent in their good influence."

"None of us can tell, who are of this company here this morning, whose influence will count for the most in the days that are to come. Perhaps some of you who are now occupying these seats will be able to exert an influence that will be far reaching in its effect, but one thing we are all certain of, and that is that we have our part to play and no matter how small it is, no one can play it but ourselves. And let us also remember that whatever we are or whatever we become, some one who has had our welfare at heart in the past, some beloved mother, or dear one, who has had an ideal for us, is largely responsible for what we have been or may be able to accomplish. And let no student of this college think that because he has acquired some of the mental attainments that he is above or better than those who are less fortunate and especially than those who have perhaps sacrificed all that he might enjoy privileges and opportunities which had been denied to them."

I sometimes hear of over-educated men, but in all my travels, and during the last fourteen years I have traveled a great deal, I have yet to find a man whose mental attainments were too great. We cannot fill our minds with too much knowledge, and when our hearts direct and control our minds, then we are sure of being controlled by a high and a noble influence that will develop our characters and make us men of purpose and high ideals."

"I shall endeavor, as often as opportunity will permit, to come in here and meet with you, and I am very glad indeed of this opportunity of seeing you and becoming acquainted with you."

Mr. Julius E. Strawn then announced that Mr. Bryan would deliver an address in the evening to which the parents of the students and all friends of the college would be most cordially welcome.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

The afternoon session of the board of trustees was held at 3 o'clock in the office of Judge Thompson in the court house. The board was in session until 5:30, and the entire time was spent in the consideration of ways and means to increase the efficiency of the institution and with especial reference toward increasing the attendance of students. An active campaign along this line will be inaugurated soon.

EVENING ADDRESS.

A highly appreciative audience filled Jones Memorial hall in the evening. Many stood in the aisles and no speaker could ask for hearers more thoroughly in sympathy with him. The gifted orator was unfortunately nearly half an hour late and a part of the time was employed by the students in giving a series of college yells, much to the amusement of the audience. When the guest of the occasion put in an appearance he was greeted with vociferous cheers. In a few words, Acting President Julius E. Strawn introduced him and he at once proceeded with his address, a brief outline of which is given:

"I have had the pleasure of saying some things to the students to day and I hope to be able to return here from time to time to speak to them and aid the college in its work. I appreciate this opportunity to meet many whom I knew when a student and resident here. I now live in another state, but shall never forget those whom I knew and loved here. Often when in college we used to be favored with visitors who spoke and nearly always I gained something useful from them."

"An idea is of the utmost importance, for it will often revolutionize a life, a community, a state, a nation, yes, a world. Sometimes we get ideas from each other, from nature and from the things around us. Once when traveling through Iowa I got an idea from some hogs rooting; it was that they were destroying more than they were worth. We used to ring the noses of our hogs; not to prevent them from getting fat, though we were more interested in that than they were, but to restrain them from doing mischief. The very foundation of law is to restrain persons from doing what they should not do. Restraints are not to keep men from improving opportunities, but to prevent them from destroying more than they are worth. People used to say of Cicero that he spoke well, but after hearing Demosthenes they said: 'Let us go against Philip.'"

"So the object of an orator is not to say fine things merely, but to persuade his audience."

"I want to leave an idea with you. I have been thinking more and more of the value of an ideal. How it is and should be an inspiration to every person. A man commits suicide often because he has a false ideal in life and fails to attain it. We all value ourselves more than others value us; the ratio is very great; often more than sixteen to one (Laughter). If a man measures the value of his life by what he does for others, then his happiness is in his own keeping. It is a great misfortune for a man to overtake his ideal. I like to think of life as a constant unfolding; like the path of the just, which shineth more and more unto the perfect day. When dealing with the young urge them to seek high ideals and they will ever be with them. Circumstances may alter one's plans and actions, but the ideals should remain. I have had my course of action changed several times. In the summer of 1900 the traveling men's Bryan club gave me a handsome valise and told me to take it in my wardrobe to the white house the fourth of the next March, and in the excitement and exhilaration of the moment I promised to do it, but subsequent circumstances caused me to alter my plans."

"I have had three plans in life. When a child I wanted to be a Baptist preacher and held to it for some time, until one day my father took me to see an immersion and told me I would have to do that if I were a preacher of that persuasion and that cured me, though some said it was a Democratic distaste for water. Then I thought I would like to be a farmer, but finally decided to study law, and when a barefooted boy I would go to the court house and listen to the trials and that plan I have realized. I have known men who have striven nobly to realize their ideals and have been great in their callings. I visited the Hull house in Chicago and saw there the grand results of following noble ideals. I spent a day a few years ago with the great Tolstoi whose words have stirred the great empire of Russia and more or less the whole world. He could have fame and honor if he chose, but he has a nobler ideal, and though the Russian government prohibits the reading of his books, with an army of a million men they dare not do him harm. I knew a trifling young man who stopped into a protracted meeting and was converted. A noble ideal took possession of him. He worked his way through school and the theological seminary and became an earnest minister of the gospel. I passed through a period of skepticism when a boy. I was worried about the mysteries of the Bible and revelation; I couldn't understand the miracle of feeding a multitude with five loaves and two fishes, but I have seen so many far greater mysteries in the world that I have no further trouble with the Bible. In the spring from a few seeds comes food for millions. Plant a small, black seed in the ground and in a few weeks you have a perfectly formed radish with green top and white root. Ah, if we ate only what we understood, we should soon starve, but believe never invades the dining room; it only prevails in church (Applause). A materialist undertook to prove that all things came into the world without a Creator, but it took far more faith to believe him than the simple story of revelation. No materialist can explain the change in the human heart when a man hates the things he once loved and loves the good he once hated."

"We have our ideals in all things. Happiness in married life depends on our ideals. If we marry the right ideals all will be well, but if we make it a barter and sale, each trying to get ahead of the other like two men trading horses, it will be different, and the latter have the advantage for the one who cheats may hope not to see his victim again, but the other must meet his each day and frequently be reminded of unpleasant facts (Laughter). Never was there a time when integrity in business and the professions was more demanded than at present. We may have our ideals in politics too. I think we are far enough from the last election to discuss that—if it was an election (Laughter). It really seemed more like a Republican primary (Laughter). A man can best serve his party by raising its ideals. If a young man wants to know the greatest wealth in life let him live twenty-five years in a community; act so as to be respected, devote himself to the welfare of others, and he will have a priceless possession in the esteem of others. So, too, a political party which keeps true to its exalted ideals, will in time prevail, though it may require twenty-five years to do it. All over the world people know the ideals of this nation if they can not tell how many square miles we possess or name other statistics regarding us."

"This college should have noble ideals by which it will be known. We all have an important part to play in this work. The trustees can do theirs, the faculty theirs, but without the aid of the students the efforts of the others will be useless. During five months' service in the army I learned much of men. There are the same things to contend with there as in school. Some officers were so afraid of their dignity they would not even carry a bundle, but an officer fully devoted to the good of his men, if he have a quiet dignity, he need not be afraid to carry a bundle or mingle with his men. The teacher and the pupils should be near each other. I love this college and want to see it attain its greatest good. There is a value in the small institution in the fact that professor and pupil come in close contact and we should more and more cultivate it. The students may do more than any others in inducing their fellows to remain and others to come. Work together for the one aim—the good of the college—and seem with high ideals to go forth to bless mankind. The people of the community have great responsibilities resting upon them. The college is of inestimable value to the city. Its students must largely be drawn from the immediate vicinity and all should lend a hand in seeking its advancement. We can measure the distance to the most remote star, but we cannot measure the results of a kind word or deed. The surroundings here are grand in their history. Noble men founded this institution and gave their lives to it, and we should be inspired by their fine example. If you have strength greater than that of others, help them and rear a lofty character. I want this college to be an ideal college in an ideal town and if we work together we may make it what we will."

Great applause followed the close of the excellent address and then many pressed forward to take the eminent speaker by the hand and it was pleasant to observe how many he recognized in the number."

GET HIS HAIR BACK.

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Herpicide.

Federick Marshall, Maryland blacksmith, bought a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, April 6, '08, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead and in 20 days he had hair all over his head. Only 2 he writes, "and today my hair is thick and luxuriant as any one could wish." Newbro's Herpicide works on an old principle and with a new discovery—destroy the cause and you remove the effect. Herpicide destroys the cause that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness, so that with the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. ARMSTRONG & ARMSTRONG, Special Agents.

BABY SOHNER

Restored to Health by Vinol After Every Other Else Had Failed—Mrs. Schaner's Letter Published by Request of Mr. Lee P. Alcott.

Mrs. Schaner writes: "Our baby had been ill for months, was frail, sickly and could not digest its food, and I want you to accept my sincere thanks for recommending Vinol. The effect was all we could hope for. After the first dose our baby commenced to retain its food and since taking Vinol has gained twenty pounds. We consider this a remarkable record."

In talking to a reporter Mr. Lee P. Alcott assured him that this is only one of many cases that have come to his attention where Vinol has restored health and strength to children after everything else had failed and in many cases actually saved lives.

"You know," continued Mr. Alcott, "Vinol is not a patent medicine, but a cod liver oil medicine which contains all the curative, strength creating elements of cod liver oil, but without a drop of oil. It is delicious to take and will make pure, rich, red blood, sound flesh and muscle tissue and create health and strength more surely and quickly than anything we have ever sold in our store.

"In the strongest manner we unhesitatingly endorse and guarantee Vinol to increase the appetite, cure stomach troubles, give strength and renewed vitality to weak, puny children and the aged, build up the run-down, tired and debilitated, make the weak strong, cure chronic coughs and colds, or return every dollar paid for it."

"Just wish every mother in Jacksonville who has a sick, puny or ailing child, every old person and every run-down and debilitated person would try Vinol on our guarantee to give them back every cent they pay for Vinol if it does not give entire satisfaction." Lee P. Alcott, Druggist.

The many friends of G. H. Hausen, an engineer, L. E. & W. R. R. at present living in Lima, Ohio, will be pleased to know of his recovery from threatened kidney disease. He writes: "I was cured by using Foley's Kidney Cure, which I recommend to all, especially tramped, who are usually similarly afflicted." Sold by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store.

Miss Clara Henderson and Mr. Woods, of Arcadia, visited in the Bend Sunday and Monday.

The ice period has been very annoying to our jollies—locomotion is hampered, and all kinds of stopped and tumbling is very fashionable.

The sad news of the death of little Nellie Moss Sunday morning threw the neighborhood into a high state of excitement. Nellie was the only daughter of Grace Moss, of New York, and her mother, Mrs. Moss, of Arcadia. The family have the sympathy of this entire community.

We are in receipt of a letter from Prof. P. M. Hankins, who is located at Bloomfield, Ind. The professor says he is doing well and still remembers the loyal friends he left in the Bend.

THE ARCADIA.

The usual number of Arcadians looked after various interests in Jacksonville Saturday.

At the last election of the Maple Rebekah lodge No. 533, held Tuesday night, Jan. 15, the following officers were chosen:

P. G. M. Nellie Peterson.
N. G. Nellie Peterson.
Secretary—Maude Henderson.
Treasurer—Ellen Neill.

Mr. Henderson has lost a number of large turkeys recently and wishes me to state in these items that he knows who the thieves are and unless the turkeys are brought back or a recompense given in the near future he'll proceed to prosecute the offenders.

Mr. Henry is a grandson of Mrs. B. F. Walker, and a resident of New York state, has been visiting his parents and others, who are now sleeping at the home of B. F. Walker.

If you saw two men tramping wildly down East State street Saturday evening no doubt you took them for a couple of inmates who had escaped from the insane, but such was not the case. It was only L. O. Seiple and D. G. Henderson trying to get to the C. & A. R. R. depot before the north bound train left. They did.

O. M. Peterson has displaced B. J. Henderson as village hostler and not only carries for and looks after all preacher's horses, but boards the owners as well. All incoming preachers would be well to give him a call. Rates reasonable.

Ralph Riddick, who has been visiting an uncle, Quintette, in the past few months, returned home Friday. He says there is quite a difference in the two climates and he hardly likes the change. He is able to keep warm as long as he does not leave the stove.

It may not be widely known in Jacksonville that Long and his assistant Carl are first-class photographers as well as barbers, but if you don't believe it, ask them to try it on you. They will be glad to do the result. We always knew Carl had large feet, but if his boots are as big as the picture would lead us to believe they would certainly out rival the seven league boots of fairyland.

Ask L. A. Barry if it pays to advertise. The remains of Mrs. S. Hitchens, of Leesberry, were brought here and buried in the Arcadia cemetery Monday.

Mrs. Henry Maul has been sick for a week past, suffering from the grip.

PURCHASED CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY AND SENT IT TO FRIENDS.

Mr. F. W. J. Fletcher, a druggist in Victoria, Australia, says: "A customer of mine was so pleased with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which she had used for her children when suffering from colds and croup, that during a fortnight's time she obtained at my shop, nine bottles, which she sent to her friends in different parts of the state, telling them how much good it had done and advising them to give it a trial." For sale by all leading druggists.

DURBIN. James E. Oxtley and Charles Beecup a team of horses this week for $300. He also contracted 100 head of hogs to Mr. Beecup at $4.50.

Arthur Rawlings shot a wild goose the other day that weighed fourteen pounds. Miss Lela Gunn is visiting Mrs. Walters, Leola, Florida street and Monday with the family of Harvey Spices.

Mrs. H. Spices is sick. James Oxtley spent several days in Macoupin county last week.

Arthur Rawlings had the misfortune to lose a horse last week. In coming out from Franklin the horse became unmanageable and ran until one of them fell.

Walter Ellington has returned from a visit with his brother near Palmyra.

Attended the funeral of George Reed last Saturday. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved mother and the sisters in this hour of sadness.

DO NOT SUPPRESS A COUGH. When you have a cough do not try to suppress it, but remove the cause. The cough is only a symptom of some disease, and the disease is what you should cure, then the cough will stop of itself. The most common cause of coughing is a cold. Anodynes will promptly suppress the cough, and preparations containing chloroform, opium, etc., are used for that purpose, but they do not cure the cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy on the other hand, does not suppress the cough, but relieves it by removing from the throat and lungs the mucus which obstructed the breathing and allaying the irritation and tickling in the throat. It also opens the secretions and effectually and permanently cures the cold as well as the cough. For sale by all leading druggists.

WOODBRON. Miss Edith Mastick of Jacksonville, is spending a few days here with relatives.

Mrs. David Stansfield, from near Murfreesboro, was calling on friends here last Friday.

W. W. Coffey, of Zanesville, Ohio, visited his sister, Mrs. William Colton, last week.

William Russell, Sr., is still improving from his recent illness.

Grandma Shelton is reported very ill.

The old society will meet at the home of Mrs. S. Megginson Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 18.

The revival services at the Christian church will continue for an indefinite time Saturday morning word was received that Alver Henry, who has been in a bad condition for the last three months on account of injuries sustained when run over by a car, had fallen and broken the "leg" again. He has the sympathy of his many friends here.

Miss Stella Seymour is on the sick list.

Rev. E. P. Loose, the evangelist expected at the Presbyterian church, has been delayed at Chicago and will be here by the unparalleled interest there. Whitehall is being stirred to the center and we expect that a new sited side Sunday.

The Medicine That Cures.

RENO, ORE., May 11, 1908.

Wine of Cardui absolutely does cure sick women. I consider it the most valuable medicine, and it is the cheapest cure any sick woman can use, as it takes as a rule, only a few bottles to effect a complete and lasting cure. I especially recommend it for uterine or ovarian troubles, inflammation and ulceration, painful, profuse or scanty menstruation and it is a most valuable adjunct to use during the gestative period, insuring easy childbirth and speedy recovery.

It should have a place in every home as it is a true friend to wife, mother and maiden and I most heartily recommend it.

Dr. E. Buchanan
WRITER AND LECTURER.

Dr. Mrs. Buchanan is an authority on the science of medicine and certainly appreciates the great work physicians are doing for the relief of suffering. But this does not deter her from expressing her views in praise of Wine of Cardui.

Mrs. Buchanan's high intelligence and long and successful experience render her advice of great value. Wine of Cardui regulates menstruation, cures bearing-down pains and relieves suffering women of the pain and misery to which their sex is heir. You have the word of Dr. Buchanan and thousands of other eminent women that Wine of Cardui will completely cure you.

All druggists sell $1.00 bottles Wine of Cardui.

Painless, Natural Childbirth.

Baby's coming into the world should be preceded by a certain preparation on the part of every woman who expects to become a mother. She owes it as a duty to her unborn babe, and to herself; her duty to her unborn babe is to use every means within her power to add his entrance into the world. "Baby cannot help himself in this ordeal, therefore mother must. He has a hard enough time after his arrival, so let us make his coming easy. His health in after life depends greatly upon the manner of his coming: would you have your child a cripple, or would you have him a tower of strength? Strong men are but grown-up children; a famous surgeon in Vienna is devoting his life-work to the cure of little helpless cripples, deformed by birth; do not allow your child to become a cripple.

Mother's Friend

Is a liniment which forestalls any possibility of accident at birth; that is, it relaxes all the abdominal muscles and tissues, and permits of an easy access to the child. It eases the mother's pain, and so assists nature that when baby comes he starts out in life with a constitution well able to fight life's battles, and to bloom into strong pure manhood that is the comfort and delight of every true mother's heart.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION

First Lecture in Series on "Art and Life" by Prof. Zuehlke Given Tuesday Evening.

The second course of university extension lectures under the auspices of the Woman's club, opened last evening with a delightful lecture on "The Gothic Revival," by Charles Zuehlke, B. D., professor of sociology in the University of Chicago. The lecture was the first of a series called "Art and Life." Although there were many other attractions for the evening, the auditorium of the high school was well filled by an appreciative audience.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. E. C. Lambert and with a few introductory remarks entered upon his theme with the statement that it is one of the most deplorable of our present tendencies that when we think of art we think of paintings. He stated that he should deal with "democratic art." "The terms may appear incongruous, but if democracy is worth anything, why should it not be applied to art, society and other elements of life, as well as to politics?" "Democratic art is the art made by the people and for the people, a joy to the maker and user." Such an art was the once despised Gothic art.

The speaker then briefly reviewed the love of the classic and formal in literature, art, religion, philosophy and manners of the eighteenth century, giving examples and illustrations to make his points clear, and passed on to the reaction, which found expression in Romanticism, which began with the fantastic and ended with the scientific. He showed that all reforms started with the fantastic and gradually worked into the rational and scientific. The business of the country is no longer carried on along formal lines, but great movements in the business world originate in dreams and romancing. So the romantic movement ran into revivals of Shakespeare, Chaucer and Spenser, an affected regard for nature and a genuine appreciation of nature. The same movement brought about the Wesleyan religious revival and the Oxford movement.

The progress of the "Gothic Revival" was then taken up and traced through its development, the effect upon civilization being shown in an interesting way. The "Interpretation of Gothic" chapter of Ruskin's "Stones of Venice" was recommended to the audience for reading in connection with the lecture. The entire audience remained for the class after the lecture and a number of questions were answered and discussed. Professor Zuehlke is a very interesting and pleasant speaker. He appears to be filled with his subject, which imparts to his remarks a vigorous enthusiasm which attracts more closely the attention of his audience.

The books for reference in this course will be found at the public library, where they will be in charge of Miss Seybold. Any person holding a ticket for the course may draw upon them by applying to Miss Seybold.

ECONOMICAL STOVE COMPANY

Meeting of Stockholders and Directors—Officers Elected—Capital Stock Increased.

The meeting of the stockholders and directors of the Economical Stove company was held at the office of James O. Priest Tuesday afternoon and the annual election of officers held, which resulted as follows: President—C. F. Tonn. Vice president—James O. Priest. Secretary—John A. Unglaub. Directors—For three years, C. F. Tonn; for two years, T. W. Beadle; for one year, C. C. Self.

During the past season only a beginning has been made in the manufacture of the new pattern stove on which Mr. Unglaub recently obtained a patent. The principle involved in this patent is a hot blast, direct down draft, burning absolutely without soot and consuming for the most part the smoke.

Two lots have been purchased just north across the Wabash railroad, opposite the freight depot, on which, as soon as the weather will permit, the erection of a foundry and stove factory will be commenced, and instead of having casting for stoves made in Quincy the work will thereafter be done in this city. It is also the intention of the company to equip its foundry with facilities for casting other patterns and to do work outside the regular stove work. The capital stock has been increased to $25,000.
